Flamingo Road Church battles for the truth

Beginning Sunday, March 8, 2008 the battle begins against Flamingo Road Church with an attempt to tap into individual's perceptions of church and stating them as truths. This battle will take place throughout various mediums including billboard, print, and website. The main battlefield will be satanspeaks.com, where Satan will write about his strategy and mission to turn people away from Flamingo Road Church.

As Flamingo Road Church exposes Satan and defends the Truth, join them by visiting satanspeaks.com and attending one of their weekend services. It is during these weekend services where people will experience the real message God has for the world. "The RationalLies series and satanspeaks.com will tap into people's innermost struggles and battles," commented Pastor Troy Gramling of Flamingo Road Church. "We are breaking through the darkness with what some may consider a controversial tactic, but therefore reaching a more extensive group and number of people with the truth."

Flamingo Road Church, named one of the 4 most innovative churches in America (Outreach magazine), has 4 campuses in South Florida, as well as Lima, Peru and the Internet Campus. There are a variety of service times at all locations and additional Easter Sunday services will be at each campus. Service times, campus locations and further information can be found at flamingoroadchurch.com.

If you would like more information, or to schedule an interview with Pastor Troy Gramling, please call Heather at 954-434-1500 or by email at heather.palacios@flamingoroad.org
